EMPLOYEE EXCELLENCE

"Building Success: Uchelsung 'Sung' Rdialul's Legacy of Leadership"

At Surangel Construction Company, Uchelsung Rdialul, fondly known as Sung, stands out as a pillar of our operations team. With an impressive thirty-six years of dedicated service, Sung has been an integral part of our success story.

A Day in the Life

Sung's day begins early, waking up at 6 am to manage calls from employees and resolve scheduling conflicts. His unwavering commitment to his role is balanced by the support he receives from his family. Their understanding and encouragement allow him to focus on his work without additional home chores, making every morning brighter with the smiles of his children and wife.

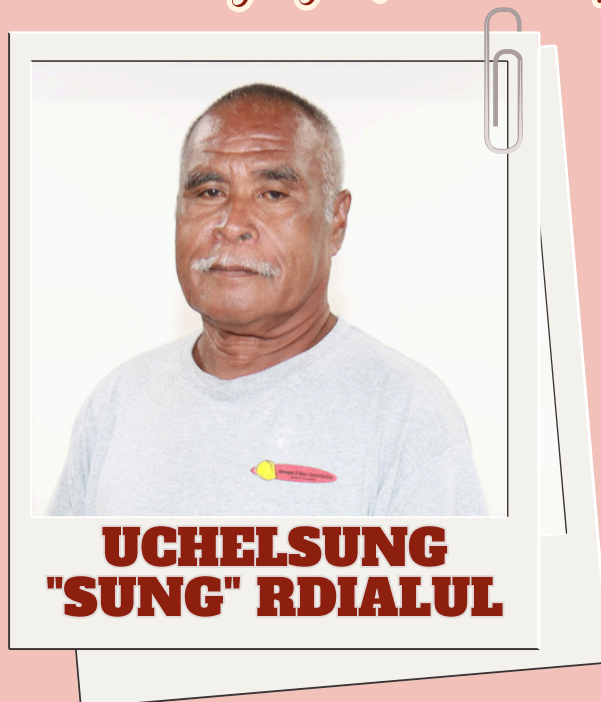

Embracing New Learning Opportunities

Despite his extensive experience, Sung remains committed to personal growth. He is currently embracing the challenge of working with younger, educated employees, finding fresh perspectives and learning new techniques from his dynamic colleagues.

Pride in Every Project

Sung takes immense pride in all the projects he has led throughout his career. His method of visualizing the end result before starting a project has been a key factor in his success. Each accomplishment, whether big or small, contributes to the rich legacy of excellence he has built over the years.

Uchelsung shares this message with his colleagues: "Keep your focus on the end goal of each project, and embrace the learning process with every new challenge. Remember, experience and determination are powerful tools. Let's continue to support one another and achieve great things together."
